ABOUT THE PORT OF COLON Dreary Picture of Panama Presented in the Description of Naval Attache.

According to Surgeon A. G. Grunwell, United States navy, who recently visited the Isthmus of Panama on the United States steamer Dixie, Colon possesses in profuse abundance all the requisites of a pest hole. "From typhoid and dysentery," said he in a recent report to the navy department, "there is little danger to ships, as neither milk nor vegetables can be obtained on shore, and the water supply of ships is distilled on board with no danger of contamination.
On the other hand, mosquitoes, culex, anopheles and stercoraria, abound, and it only requires the advent of large numbers of unacclimated persons and a little carelessness to set the flame of epidemic infectious disease going.
Malaria in several forms is prevalent, but during the stay of this vessel at Colon only one suspected case of yellow fever occurred on shore. Several cases were, however, reported from Panama, on the other side of Isthmus, and with the easy railroad communication and the ideal conditions for the spread of yellow fever existing the danger to Colon is constant and obvious.

"Apart from these climate and conditions existing at Colon are depressing in the extreme to those forced to spend much time on a ship in the roadstead.
First, there is little or no protection from the sea, and rollers come in of such a size as to make the handling of small boats hazardous. Rains are abundant, and the atmosphere is always very damp, owing to the fact that the town and the swamps about it are situated in a V-shaped pocket of mountains, which tend to concentrate the moisture in the atmosphere and keep it saturated. The heat is not unusually great for a place located in this latitude, but the combination of heat and moisture is often hard to endure. Another important factor which cannot be overlooked is that Colon affords absolutely no recreation for enlisted men going ashore."

Our Service to Porto Rico.
Boxes, contracts, boulders, all formerly went to the Spaniards. To-day nearly the whole salary list goes to Porto Ricans. Even in the insular postal service, which is a federal branch, there are only three American postmasters, and hardly 12 American clerks. During one year 43 natives were appointed to our civil service.
The Spaniards maintained a military government. Now there is only one regiment, and it is composed of natives, and most of the officers also are natives. In 1897 barely 15 per cent. of the population could read and write.
Now there are facilities even for industrial, agricultural and manual training.
The penitentiary itself is a school, and the inmates learn trades. In four years of American rule 159 miles of new roads were built, or as much each year as per centum of Spanish rule.
About half the cost was appropriated by congress and paid by ourselves.—

Mountain of Lava.
Mt. Matutu, on the island of Savaili, Samoa group, has covered 89 square miles of land around it with lava, and a stream 12 miles wide is flowing into the sea. The lava is thrown up 1,200 feet and, at latest accounts, had increased the height of the mountain, since August 21, by 3,000 feet.

JILTED BY THREE IN A DAY Sexton's Choice Had Eloped at the Last Moment, and He Hated to Waste the License.

Owingsville, Ky.—The four Spence sisters, daughters of Rev. Allen Spence, an elder of the "Holiness" religious sect of the Moore's Ferry section of this county, evidently think there is better fish in the matrimonial sea than Lewis Sexton, a young farm hand, and have each jilted him in turn.

Sexton came here a few days ago and secured a marriage license to take Miss Clarinda Spence as a wife. Sexton had with him the written consent of the girl, and secured the license without trouble. He did not go after his promised bride at once, but concluded to wait until the next day, as he thought his license would keep without fee. Next morning Sexton put on his "Sunday best" and went to the Spence residence, where he was informed that Clarinda, believing that as Sexton had not appeared the night before he had concluded to desert her, and Edgar Highly, a former suitor, having appeared on the scene, she had eloped to Ohio with him and been married.

Sexton was inconsolable for an hour or so, but at last said that he supposed as the license contained the name of Spence it would make no difference to him which one of the Spence girls he married, and he alternately proposed to each of his former sweethearts, three sisters, but was rejected by each.
His pleadings of the wasted license availed nothing, and he was forced to return home without a wife.

Sexton's first wife died only a few months ago.

WHISKY IN THE ARCHIVES.
Part That Was Played by a Bottle of the Liquor in the Hawaiian Revolution.

A whisky bottle is filed away with care among the archives of the Hawaiian government, as are also two of the nodding chicken feather helmet adornments formerly worn by King Kalakaua on state occasions. The bottle, says the Honolulu Commercial Advertiser, is certainly a unique "document" for the archives, but a written statement across the face of the label shows that it played an important part in the revolution of 1895, when the attempt was made to overthrow the republic and restore the queen to her throne.

The bottle is an ordinary one, with a bulging cork, and is about half full of a liquid of which, for some reason or another, no one in the capitol is willing to partake.

Across the face is the following written with pen and ink:
"In re treason of Gulick et al. Ex. B.
Filed this 21st day of January, 1895. J.
W. Jones, 1st Lieut. Co. D., N. G. H., Recorder."

After the death of Charles Carter at Diamond Head, who was killed by revolutionists, the government troops were dispatched to Bertelmann's place and put on guard. It was a strenuous time.
One night when the guards were being changed every hour, so that no sentry would have an opportunity of falling asleep, the officer in charge is said to have sent for some hot coffee. This would aid in keeping the soldiers awake.
The coffee came. Also a bottle of whisky was brought along. The officers said the men could drink coffee, but not whisky. It was suggested that whisky might be put in the coffee. No, it might make them drowsy. But it happened that one of the soldiers drank some whisky. He fell asleep half an hour afterward and did not wake until the next morning about daylight. He was shaken several times during the night, but he was in a deep, heavy slumber and could not be awakened.

The bottle of whisky was kept in the camp. The contents are, and probably will remain, untouched, for there seems to be a general impression about that the contents were, and may be still,
"doped."

Auto Gun.
Mr. Bogwaller—Yep, that's my machine gun.
Visitor—Machine gun? Why, it looks to me like an old muzzle-loading musket.
"Well, so 'tis. It's what I shoot at the automobile fellers with."—Chicago Daily News.

America's "Good" Women.
There are many varieties of good women in the world, some passive and others active, some subjective and others objective. The good American woman is the most active and aggressive of her sex. She exercises the strictest discipline over her own family. She has the most decided convictions on social questions. In nine cases out of ten she is an anti-drinker, er, anti-smoker, anti-gambler.—Blackwood's Magazine.

If an article is isolated, the original is always best. Think it over, and when you go to buy that box of salve to keep around the house, get DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It is the original and the name is stamped on every box. Good for eczema, tetter, boils, cuts and bruises, and especially recommended for piles. Sold by E.
T. Whitehead & Co.

If we give to the soul only of our surplus, that which calls for no self-denial, the gift loses that which alone makes it acceptable to Him.

Keep the bowels open when you have a cold and use a good remedy to allay the inflammation of the mucous good. Sold by E. T. Whitehead

The Largest, Best-Equipped and Cleanest Flat Plug Tobacco Manufacturing Plant in the World

The Reynolds factories, equipped with every modern appliance for producing the best chewing tobacco by a clean, sanitary and healthful process, under the direction of men who have made the business a life study, are located in the centre of the Piedmont tobacco belt, known to the world as the best productive soil for tobacco with an aroma so delightful, pleasing and appetizing that it created and popularized the fondness for chewing tobacco.

Only choice selections of this well-matured, thoroughly cured leaf are used in SCHNAPPS and others of the high-grade Reynolds brands, and expert tests prove that this tobacco requires and takes a smaller amount of sweetening than any other kind, and has a wholesome, stimulating and satisfying effect on chewers.

SCHNAPPS is the brand that made the Reynolds factories famous as the manufacturers of the best and most popular brands of chewing tobacco, and made necessary the enormous growth from a small factory in 1875 to the largest flat-plug factory in the world.
The men who started the Reynolds Co., in 1875, are directing it to-day.
There are a greater number of manufacturers making imitations claimed to be just as good as SCHNAPPS than any commodity manufactured; yet there are more pounds of SCHNAPPS chewed than the total amount of all imitative brands, or tobacco of similar appearance.

Be sure the letters on the tag and under the tag spell S-C-H-N-A-P-P-S, and you will have the genuine.
